

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

The Journal of College and University Law is a publication of the National Association of College and University Attorneys (NACUA) and Rutgers Law School. It is a refereed, professional journal specializing in contemporary legal issues and developments important to postsecondary education.

The Journal publishes articles, commentaries (scholarly editorials), and book reviews. Experts in the law of higher education review all manuscripts.

Manuscripts should be double spaced and submitted electronically via a Microsoft Word document, or typewritten on 8½" × 11" paper. Set-off quotations should be double-spaced. Footnotes should reflect the format specified in the nineteenth edition of A Uniform System of Citation (the "Bluebook"). A paragraph on the title page should provide the position, the educational background, the address and telephone number of the author. Each author is expected to disclose in an endnote any affiliation or position—past, present, or prospective—that could be perceived to influence the author's views on matters discussed in the manuscript.

Decisions on publication usually are made within four weeks of a manuscript's receipt. Outside reviewers advise the Faculty Editors who make the final publication decision. The Journal submits editorial changes to the author for approval before publication. The Faculty Editors reserve the right of final decision concerning all manuscript revisions. When an article is approved for publication, the Journal requires a signed License Agreement from its author(s), pursuant to which NACUA must be granted the first right to publish the manuscript in any form, format or medium. The copyright to the article remains with the author, while NACUA retains all rights in each issue of the Journal as a compilation.

As of July 1, 2016, editorial responsibility for the Journal has shifted from Notre Dame Law School to Rutgers School of Law. The faculty editors there are Professor Rayman Solomon and Professor John Farmer. The email address of the Journal is: jcul@law.rutgers.edu.
